PROMOTION WORK BRINGS RESULTS

Secretary Wood Tells Of Things Done And Planned

Secretary H. P. Wood of the Promotion Committee submitted a lengthy report to the trustees of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon. In part as follows:

For the quarter ending March 31st, the volume of travel from the Mainland has been most satisfactory, all lines of trade being benefited thereby.

One prominent retail merchant informed me that over 25 per cent. of his business could be directly traced to the stranger.

Tourists Are Coming.

The members of your Promotion Committee feel greatly encouraged, and firmly believe that the tide of tourist travel, which has done so much for Southern California, has at last turned this way, and from now on will steadily and rapidly increase.

The tourist of today is the home-builder of tomorrow.

There are many thousands of people possessing good incomes living among other and less favored surroundings, who are seeking for just what we have to offer and what in truth cannot be found elsewhere in the world over.

Valuable Investment.

The oscillating mimeograph, installed since the first of the year, has proved to be a most valuable investment, enabling the office force to send out some 15,000 letters. When the trans-Pacific Yacht Race was finally determined upon, a special letter was sent to every yacht owner in the United States reciting briefly the plans for the race and extending a courteous invitation for the recipient to visit Honolulu at that time.

Some 4000 letters have been sent to the members of the National Educational Association and other teachers, who it was thought might be interested in the educational convention to be held at San Francisco next July.

Education in Hawaii.

With this letter was sent a small folder compiled by President Griffiths of Oahu College, for the Promotion Committee, giving information concerning education in Hawaii. Several thousand extra copies of this folder will be distributed in San Francisco at the time of the convention.

Special circular letters have also been sent to members of the trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, National Climatological Association and other organizations.

Scenes in Colors.

While we have enough printed matter on hand for the immediate present I have in mind something entirely different from what has hitherto been published. A small pamphlet about three inches wide by four inches long to contain from eight to twelve pictures, in three or four colors, of Hawaii's most beautiful bits of scenery.

To Draw Conventions.

Members of the Promotion Committee are making a strong effort to bring Hawaii to the notice of different Associations as a place for their annual conventions.

While distance from the Mainland, cost and uncertainty of transportation are serious handicaps, yet we are meeting with encouragement and in fact have strong hopes of securing the 1907 convention of the trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress and the 1908 convention of the American Meteorological Association; also one other important convention which may be secured for this year.

The advertising given Hawaii by these efforts is of decided advantage to us even though we may not secure the desired conventions.

Good Lady Advertiser.

Mrs. Weathered, who was here with the Oregon girls, will make a strong plea for Hawaii at the coming convention of the National Editorial Association, of whose executive committee the lady is a member.

Our efforts to advertise Hawaii have been ably seconded by such men as Archbishop Jeffries, Bishop Hamilton and others who have recently visited our islands, taking away with them from 100 to 500 lantern slides each, which will be in almost constant use for some time to come.

Floral Parade Publicity.

One of the best advertisements Hawaii has had for some time was the Floral celebration on Washington's birthday, which delighted thousands of people, and is being given wide publicity.

The coming trans-Pacific Yacht Race will also prove of great advantage in bringing Hawaii to the attention of every lover of true sport the world over.

Novel Scheme Afoot.

In order to create an interest in Hawaii among a class of men who are in constant touch with the traveling public, your committee is working on a plan which involves the offering of prizes for the best answers to the question "Why Should Hawaii Expect to Become a Great and Popular Resort for Home-Seekers and Tourists?"

Contestants will be restricted to passenger agents of the railway and steamship companies of the United States, Canada and Mexico.

It will be a campaign of education as well as of advertising; it is a big undertaking, but it will be pushed, and we shall win.

By the last mail we received from a prominent Colorado banker, who had spent several weeks here, a valuable tribute to Hawaii, which we are having lithographed and will send out with a special circular letter to upwards of 5000 bank presidents and directors.

Some two months since we mailed a small card to every library in the United States and Canada, stating that Hawaii Promotion Committee would gladly send illustrated matter descriptive of Hawaii. If asked to do so, which we requested the different librarians to post on their bulletin boards.

Library of Directories.

Our library of directories of the leading cities of the United States is being added to constantly and will soon become a valuable adjunct to the committee rooms.

I will not trespass further upon your time except to refer to the very successful work of your Promotion Committee in helping organize a large number of active improvement committees throughout all parts of the city, the creation of a special advisory board and the formation of the Oahu Central Improvement Committee, to which has been delegated the oversight of this branch of our work.

CAPTAIN CASTO WAS GAME

There are now honors in plenty for the captain of the schooner Alberta, Mark Casto, the modest hero who succeeded in rescuing the imperiled passengers and crew of the steamship Cherokee. The courage which he displayed in going out to the relief of those on the Cherokee when the ship stranded on the New Jersey coast and was in momentary danger of going to pieces in the wild storm has been deemed worthy of a Carnegie hero fund medal and of a medal from the legislature of New Jersey, while that hospitable Philadelphia organization, the Clover club, presented him with a diamond studded medal and entertained him at dinner. Captain Casto when he saw the peril of threescore persons on the Cherokee did not fear to steer straight for the open sea in his small but staunch craft. He did not hesitate to attempt a task which baffled the skill and courage even of the brave United States life saving crews of the Atlantic City station. His nerve did not desert him in the midst of tempestuous seas, but when it came to facing a lot of men in spiked tusk coats and sitting down to a course dinner the bluff skipper of a fishing smack almost showed the white feather. But he decided to go for the sake of the six sailors who helped him safely take ashore the sixty people from the Cherokee. He wanted their share in the act to receive due credit. Captain Casto is a short, unpretentious man of thirty-six, and being a hero is somewhat embarrassing to him, though this is not the first time he has rescued imperiled lives. He lives at Pleasantville, N. J., is married, is the son of a sailor and the grandson of a sailor.

SALVATION ON MAUI

Adjutant Bamberg and Walter Cannon returned from Maui this morning, where they conducted a special campaign in Waikuku, Kahului, Waihee and Lahaina. They report large audiences and a great interest in Christian work over there. The work of the Army never looked so hopeful as it does at present. The people just simply flocked to the meetings, and the Army band in Waikuku was inadequate to hold the crowds, so they got the Kaahumahu church for the Sunday night and the kindergarten for the Monday night services. Both buildings were filled with appreciative audiences. A number of people professed conversion, and the Adjutant thinks that this series of meetings are the best yet on Maui.

Captain Lyman and Lieutenant Clark and Crawford are doing a good work, as they are dealing effectively with the mixed population on Maui.

BOARD SUSTAINS PINKHAM IN KEEPING RATHBURN

The appointment of Wm. Rathburn as fish inspector was yesterday confirmed by the Board of Health the report of the special committee on the subject being as follows:

"Honolulu, T. H., April 11, 1906. To the President and Members of the Board of Health:

"The special committee on fish markets herewith submit their report and state that we have investigated the matter of the appointment of the Inspector for the new King market and find that Mr. Wm. Rathburn, appointed Inspector by the President subject to confirmation by the Board, has held a number of positions in private and government service and so far as we are able to ascertain has filled them acceptably except those in the police department.

"While it is true Mr. Rathburn committed certain indiscretions several years ago his record since that time has been good.

"Upon his leaving the road department service March 31, 1906, he was given a letter signed by Mr. Samuel Johnson, road supervisor, and approved by Messrs. Lucas and Adams, road committee County of Oahu, in which it was certified he had been employed as luna in different branches of work in the department and had always been found to be reliable, trustworthy, sober and industrious.

"Mr. H. M. von Holt, superintendent of the ranch department of the O. R. & L. Co., states that Mr. Rathburn was in his employ for a number of years as foreman of Kaimuku ranch, that his work was always satisfactorily performed, and that he would not hesitate to give him a position again should a vacancy occur.

"We recommend the appointment of Mr. Rathburn be confirmed.

"F. C. SMITH,

"J. R. JUDD."

Dr. Wayson explained that Attorney General Peters, the third member of the committee had not signed as he was engaged in court. He then moved that the report be adopted. Robinson seconded the motion, which carried. Smith, Judd, Wayson and Robinson voting aye, and Fernandez no.

The following report regarding Dr. Raymond's request that changes be made in the administration of the Malulani Hospital was adopted:

"Honolulu, Hawaii, April 11, 1906. To the President and Members of the Board of Health:

Gentlemen: In regard to the letter of Dr. J. H. Raymond, we find that Dr. J. H. Raymond was a member of the Board of Trustees of Malulani Hospital at the time that the present regulations of said hospital were ratified by the Board of Health; and we further now wish to suggest that it is not to the Board of Health, but to the Trustees of the Malulani Hospital, that Dr. Raymond should apply for any changes in the regulations of said hospital, and we so recommend.

"JAS. T. WAYSON,

"F. C. SMITH,

"Standing Committee on Hospitals."

The President informed the Board that he was preparing comfortable quarters for Dr. Hollmann at Kalanipapa.

CIVIC FEDERATION HAS SCHOOL SCHEME

The Civic Federation will choose a commission to study educational problems to present a statement to the next Legislature of existing conditions, with recommendations to act. A sub-committee reports to the executive committee that much dissatisfaction is expressed concerning existing conditions.

Teachers are poorly paid. The schools are too crowded. The committee recommended that systematic courses of study be provided in gardening, manual training, domestic science, nursing, sanitation, etc.

Dr. H. Wood will again take up the matter of the filtration of the water of Nuuanu valley. He will draw a bill for the Legislature.

It is urged by the sub-committee that the warfare be continued to guard against the introduction of disease. A coffee house in Palama will be established in connection with the general plan of settlement work being carried on by Mr. Rath.

A letter from J. Horace Macfarland, President of the American Civic Federation, with headquarters in Philadelphia, set forth a plan for a public playground to be established in Washington, D. C., to be conducted by the Associated Charities. Mr. Macfarland asked that the local Federation give its moral support to the matter. Secretary Ed Towse will write to Hawaii's Delegate to Congress to aid the measure.

HYLO LAMPS

TURN DOWN AT WILL.

URNS DOWN TO ONE OR SIXTEEN CANDLE POWER.

Users of ordinary electric lamps have often, perforce, to use 16-candle power when 1-candle power would suffice. This means that the lamp wastes you money and more money in the course of a year than you suppose.

HYLO LAMPS on the other hand, save you money, for they enable you to turn your light down from 16-c.p. to 1 c.p. at will.

HYLO LAMPS ARE INVALUABLE FOR THE SICK ROOM, AND CAN BE USED IN ANY PLACE WHERE A COMMON LAMP IS USED.
